News!

What will we be doing this month?

Can you believe it is already November?! This month we will be learning how to observe the weather, what being thankful means and the four seasons. We will also continue to learn a new letter a week, as well as review those we have learned so far. This month we will learn Pp, Ll, and Rr and review Aa, Bb, Nn, Ss and Tt. You can use your set of flashcards to practice these letters at home with your child.

We will also continue to work on name recognition and writing, counting with 1:1 correspondence, and identifying and completing ABAB patterns. We will begin working on sorting objects by their size and shape.

Classroom news

- Thank you for sending in snack and supplies for our classroom! It is much appreciated! 😊
- Please let us know if someone different if going to be picking your child up at the end of the day so we can be prepared. Thanks!
- The weather is finally getting colder outside and we will get out as much as possible before it gets too cold 😊 Please make sure your child has their jacket every day.
